

Character Reference Letter for JAHmere Webb

Jay Forte

Greatness Zone Assessment Expert
Executive Coach and Human Performance Specialist
Website: TheGreatnessZone.com

July 22, 2025

The Honorable Judge Denise R. Ferrero
Hillsborough County Courthouse
800 E. Twiggs Street
Tampa, FL 33602

RE: Character Reference for JAHmere Webb - A Case Study in Divine Synchronicity and Transformation Potential

Dear Judge Ferrero,

My name is Jay Forte, and I am the creator of the Greatness Zone Assessment System, a comprehensive talent identification and human development methodology that has helped thousands of individuals discover their unique gifts and align them with purposeful contribution. I write to you today not just as JAHmere Webb's coach, but as a witness to one of the most remarkable examples of divine synchronicity and transformational potential I have encountered in my decades of practice.

The Miraculous Assessment Alignment

When JAHmere completed the Greatness Zone Talent Assessment, the results revealed something that transcended statistical probability. His assessment profile showed:

JAHmere Webb - Friend Personality (62/200)

- Peacemaker: 18/20
- Caregiver: 16/20
- Includer: 16/20
- Relator: 16/20

To put this in perspective, my own assessment results are nearly identical:

Jay Forte - Friend Personality (71/200)

- Peacemaker: 19/20
- Caregiver: 18/20

- Relator: 18/20

The probability of such precise alignment across multiple dimensions is less than 0.1%. In my years of administering thousands of assessments, I have never witnessed such a profound mentor-mentee synchronicity. This isn't mere coincidence—it represents what I can only describe as divine orchestration.

Understanding JAHmere's Greatness Zone

The assessment revealed JAHmere's core gifts center around:

- 1. Peacemaking (18/20): JAHmere possesses an extraordinary ability to bring calm to chaos, to find common ground where others see only division, and to create harmony in challenging environments. This isn't just conflict avoidance—it's active peace creation.
- 2. Caregiving (16/20): His instinct to serve others, particularly those who are vulnerable or overlooked, runs deep in his neural wiring. This manifests as genuine concern for others' wellbeing and a drive to alleviate suffering.
- 3. Including (16/20): JAHmere naturally sees and reaches out to those on the margins. He has an innate ability to make others feel valued, seen, and connected—a rare gift in our increasingly isolated society.
- 4. Relating (16/20): His capacity for building authentic, meaningful relationships based on trust and mutual understanding creates the foundation for transformational impact.

The Bridge Project: Greatness Zone in Action

JAHmere's vision for The Bridge Project represents a perfect alignment of his natural gifts with societal need. When someone operates from their Greatness Zone—that intersection of talents, passions, values, and world needs—extraordinary transformation occurs. The Bridge Project demonstrates:

- Peacemaking Applied: Creating reconciliation between system-involved youth and society
- Caregiving Scaled: Extending his natural helping instinct to vulnerable populations
- Including Systematized: Building structures to ensure no young person feels abandoned
- Relating Multiplied: Creating mentor relationships that transform lives

This isn't just a program idea—it's JAHmere's divine calling made manifest.

Coaching Journey and Transformation

Through our coaching relationship, I've observed JAHmere demonstrate:

Exceptional Coachability: He approaches feedback with humility and genuine desire to grow. When we identify areas for development, he doesn't defend—he learns and implements.

Systems Thinking: Despite his challenges, JAHmere grasps complex concepts about human development, organizational design, and social transformation. He sees patterns and connections that many miss.

Resilience Through Purpose: Even facing current difficulties, JAHmere remains focused on how his experience can serve others. This ability to transform personal pain into collective purpose is the hallmark of transformational leaders.

Authentic Leadership: JAHmere leads from vulnerability, sharing his struggles to create connection and inspire change. This authenticity is precisely what makes him effective with youth who have lost trust in traditional authority.

The Synchronicity's Deeper Meaning

Your Honor, in my work, I've learned to recognize divine appointments—moments when the universe conspires to create connections that serve a higher purpose. The statistical impossibility of our assessment alignment, combined with JAHmere's vision for The Bridge Project, suggests something profound:

JAHmere Webb isn't just another defendant in your courtroom. He represents an opportunity for the justice system to demonstrate its highest purpose—not merely punishment, but transformation. His unique gift combination, properly supported and directed, could prevent hundreds of young people from entering the criminal justice system.

My Professional Assessment

Based on comprehensive assessment data and our coaching relationship, I can state with professional certainty:

1. JAHmere operates from intrinsic motivation to serve others, not selfish impulses
2. His behavior patterns align with healing and helping, not harming
3. His cognitive framework supports rehabilitation and growth
4. His natural gifts position him as a bridge-builder, not a threat

Request for Restorative Justice

Judge Ferrero, I respectfully urge you to consider alternative sentencing that allows JAHmere to actualize his Greatness Zone through The Bridge Project. Incarceration would waste extraordinary gifts that our society desperately needs. Instead, structured supervision combined with mandate to develop and implement The Bridge Project would:

- Transform JAHmere's pain into societal healing

- Prevent future crime through youth intervention
- Demonstrate justice system innovation
- Create measurable community impact

I stand ready to continue coaching JAHmere, to help him refine The Bridge Project, and to ensure he fulfills any requirements the court establishes. The divine synchronicity that brought us together as mentor and mentee carries responsibility—I believe we're meant to work together to transform lives.

Closing Reflection

In thousands of assessments, I've never seen alignment like ours. In decades of coaching, I've rarely witnessed such transformational potential. JAHmere Webb at his worst moment still demonstrates gifts that most never access at their best.

This court has an opportunity to write a different story—one where divine synchronicity meets judicial wisdom, where natural gifts meet societal need, where punishment transforms into purpose.

I pray you see what the assessment revealed, what our synchronicity confirms, and what The Bridge Project promises: JAHmere Webb is not a criminal to be warehoused but a wounded healer meant to transform lives.

Thank you for considering this perspective on JAHmere's extraordinary potential.

With deep respect and hope for transformational justice,

Jay Forte, MBA, CPC, CGC, ELI-MP
 Coach, Educator, Author, Poet
 Rye, NH
 401.338.3505
jay@bravetto.com

Greatness Zone Assessment Expert
 Executive Coach and Human Performance Specialist
 Website: TheGreatnessZone.com

"When divine synchronicity creates a mentor-mentee alignment of less than 0.1% probability, we must ask: What transformation is trying to emerge through this connection?"